

Target Audience Test Results

From the target audience test, I learned that I need to change some parts of the layout in each page. The flow of the pages were confusing to the users. Some things that I need to change is to make the title of each page easier to see and readable. I also need to fix the submit and reset buttons because they refresh the page sometimes instead of taking the user to the page they were meant to go to. Some things that were successful and users easily understood was the navigation at the bottom of the page. Users were able to complete the tasks that they were assigned with the navigation. However, the calendar icon seemed confusing with the heart and needs to be changed to look more like a calendar. Overall, I think the prototype for the app so far is easy to understand for the target audience. However, there are small things that need to be changed in a few of the pages.
